

The Hawaii Access to Justice Commission has distributed a 23 page detailed survey to entities providing civil legal services in the State for the purpose of gathering information on current resources. The objective of the survey is to maintain a comprehensive centralized bank of information on all programs in order to maximize the use of these resources and best deliver services to persons of low and moderate income. The survey will be placed on the Commission's subpage of the Bar Association's website.